Breakthrough Montessori embodies a new and distinctive framework for education—one that begins early, supports active, student-centered learning, addresses all dimensions of human development, and engages the family as well as the student. In order to measure the environmental and behavioral qualities proven to support executive functions, linguistic and cultural fluency, and social-emotional development, Breakthrough Montessori has developed a tablet-based classroom observation tool, the Developmental Environmental Rating Scale (DERS). Breakthrough Montessori is also a host site for the Montessori Teacher Residency, which provides job-embedded learning and coaching for future Montessori teachers.
